FACILITY CERTIFICATION INSTITUTE

This certificate certifies compliance by the above-named facility with the applicable program requirements of the Facility Certification Institute, which requirements are intended to reduce the possibility of cross-contamination of ruminant feed products with protein derived from mammalian tissues as defined by 21 C.F.R. § 589.2000. It is not intended to certify or imply the particular operating conditions within the facility at any particular time nor that the facility has been certified as free of cross-contamination from such protein products. This certification means that the facility has implemented written quality control checkpoints and good manufacturing practices within applicable industry standards and FDA regulations and guidelines. This certificate is the property of the Facility Certification Institute and must be surrendered upon request by FCI in conformance with the FCI Plasma and Hemoglobin Certified Facility Program.
